DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14 are drawn to a method of processing a biological sample by creating a covalent adduct of a target species and a separation reagent, classified in class 436, subclass 518 for example.
 - II. Claims 15-25 are drawn to a separation reagent, classified in class 422, subclass 57 for example.
 - III. Claim 26 is drawn to an automated system/apparatus for processing a biological sample, classified in class 422, subclass 50 and in class 422, subclass 213 for example.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method of invention I and the automated system/apparatus of invention III are independent and diverse because the method of invention I does not require automated processes/apparatus for patentability. Specifically the method of invention I can be practiced manually-by hand in a test tube or micro-titer well. Further the limitations with respect to claim 26 are not required for the method of Group I.

Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of invention II can be utilized in either of the materially different method of invention I, or the apparatus/system of invention III.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are patently distinct. The product (separation reagent) of invention II is not utilized in the automated system/apparatus of invention III. The apparatus doesn't use the specific separation particles of invention II. Therein restriction is proper.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Please note that the classifications in the restriction are illustrative only and do not represent all the classes and subclasses which must be searched for each invention; nor is the search limited to issued US patents, but rather includes foreign patents and applications as well as literature searches.

4. A telephone call was made to Kenneth Jenkins (51,846) on 1/13/04 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
